

International Food and Agribusiness Management Review

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE INTERNATIONAL FOOD AND AGRIBUSINESS MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATION

Call for Managing Editors

The International Food Agribusiness and Management Review (IFAMR) is seeking new Managing Editors to add to our team specifically from Africa, East and South East Asia.

EDITORIAL CULTURE

The IFAMR is the flagship journal of the field of agribusiness, providing an intellectual meeting place to discuss, define, and advance the field of agribusiness. Managing Editors act as agents in assisting authors to perfect their scholarship and help them to achieve the maximal impact from their work. The Review is an international journal welcoming reviewers, editors, and manuscripts from around the world.

ACTIVITIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

- 1) The Managing Editor is responsible for the double-blind peer review process of one manuscript a month, on average.
- 2) The Managing Editor may suggest reviewers to the Administrative Editor for a particular manuscript or the Business Office will provide a list of potential reviewers.
- 3) The Managing Editor will work with reviewers to assure that reviews are timely and of high quality. Our expectation is that the first reviews will be completed and returned to authors within 90 days from submission.
- 4) The Managing Editor will review the paper, summarize the manuscript reviews, provide the author with direction and counsel, and render an opinion about the quality and readiness for publication of the manuscript.

- 5) The Managing Editor will attend the annual IFAMA World Conference if possible to meet and collaborate with other attending IFAMR Managing Editors during a luncheon.
- 6) The Managing Editor will help attract submissions, promote the journal among their relevant community, identify new reviewers, and solicit Special Issues to the Review.
- 7) IFAMA provides complimentary annual membership for the entire Managing Editor team to acknowledge and appreciate your contribution to the journal.
- 8) Managing Editors are encouraged to give advice on how best to develop the journal and invite new contributors for the journal who wish to play an active editorial role.

DURATION

Year-to-year, upon discussion with the Executive Editor. Managing Editor appointments are renewable by mutual agreement.
