

EVERY GENERATION NEEDS ITS LEADERS.

As a farmer-owned cooperative, we help lead the agricultural industry by promoting the most innovative, responsible farming practices available today. And we want to make sure that the next generation of leaders is well trained for tomorrow. That's why we proudly support youth leadership programs like FFA. It's also why we've invested in scholarships and countless land-grant university initiatives across the country. At CHS, we know every generation needs its leaders. And every potential leader needs a little help becoming one.

A large, colorful sculpture of a rooster, constructed entirely from various international banknotes and paper currency. The rooster is positioned on the left side of the frame, facing right. Its head is made of red and pink notes, its wings are yellow and orange, and its body and tail are composed of green, blue, and purple notes. The background is a dark, textured surface with a faint, embossed image of a classical statue's head.

International Food and Agribusiness Management Review

University of Fort Hare
Together in Excellence

The IFAMR Open Access Project is supported in part through contributions from these institutions. Scholars, practitioners, students, and policymakers may now read and download the most current and archival content from the IFAMR website. The Board of Directors of the International Food and Agribusiness Management Association feel that open and immediate access to IFAMR's articles and case studies dramatically elevates the quality of scientific inquiry and instruction around the world in the field of agribusiness. If you would like to support this effort please contact: Kathryn White, Email: ifamr@ifama.org.
